

MOTHER SHATTERS DAUGHTER'S DREAM

Sarah Carpenter Safe at Home After Flight to Join Red Cross Nurse Corps.

Years spent in a drug store as soda fountain waitress, and the constant contact into which she was thrown with mothers, patients and otherwise, instilled in the mind of pretty Miss Sarah Carpenter, daughter of Mrs. T. Carpenter, 312 South Elgin, a burning desire to serve her country and Red Cross nurse on the hot plains of the Mexican war zone.

But Sarah had planned without due consideration of the wishes of her parents. While she planned only for the Red Cross, her parents planned a double-cross, and instead of a life of excitement and adventure along the Rio Grande, the young girl finds herself within the suffocating confines of her own home, none the worse for an exciting jaunt of short duration.

Several nights ago Sarah was taken off a passenger train at Collinsville by officers after the police of this city had attempted to delay her departure upon advice from the parents. Sarah was returned to this city, but the story that she had run away had been printed, and Sarah otherwise sought to have the story corrected.

"My daughter never worked in a restaurant in her life," said Mrs. Carpenter. "She only worked in drug stores, and they were the best in the city."

"She was not tired of home restraint," the mother continued. "She was not under restraint, she does not have to work, although she is working at a telephone station now. She just wanted to be a nurse, and that's all there is to it. The other stories did my daughter injustice and I want a correction made." It is.

where he will assume charge of the college immediately. President Page resigned as head of the Oklahoma school several months ago. He came to Oklahoma about seventeen years ago to take charge of the Langston school and made it one of the model institutions of the kind in the United States. For many years prior to coming to Oklahoma he was connected with the colored schools of Jefferson City, Mo.

DELEGATES RETURN FROM CONVENTION

Representatives to Oarkz Trails Meet in Springfield Make Home Trip in Auto.

Delegates from Tulsa to the annual convention of the Oarkz Trails association held Tuesday and Wednesday of this week in Springfield, Mo., returned late Thursday afternoon in the car which was the pilot machine of the automobiles from this state. The car was driven by W. A. Scott and he had as his guests on the return trip Cy Avery, J. M. Berry, Jr., J. M. Berry, Jr., and Thomas J. Tynan, warden of the Colorado state penitentiary.

The men declared the trip one of the most enjoyable they had ever taken and the work of the car in negotiating some of the bad stretches of road between Tulsa and the convention city, said one of the delegates, was riding in negotiated the bad stretches in a wonderful manner and it demonstrated that improved roads would mean a great increase in sales of cars that the dealers have some.

During Friday afternoon Mr. Tynan was the guest of Mr. Avery at his ranch and was much impressed with the prosperous condition to be viewed, both in the feet of Tulsa and in the farms and ranches of the surrounding country.

to just phone in the names and they would be taken care of. There is not one person in the county, not even the county registrar, T. L. Wallace, who is now in Kentucky, who could tell where all the registration books are at present. Some of the deputy registrars have kept them; some are in offices in the courthouse, the registrar has some, and others have a few. A county official admitted yesterday that it was going to be an awful job to get them all together and in the hands of the election board. They are supposed to be turned over to the board today.

The World has been trying to get a report of the work done in the county during the registration ever since it took place but it has been unable to compile a report nor has one ever been printed. Many Democrats expressed themselves as disgusted with the low methods pursued by the finance committee in their efforts to distort their own unfair law in order to get their names on the books so that they could vote.

he will be elected. I am very enthusiastic about his candidacy," Taft answered.

"What do you think of Colonel Roosevelt in connection with the campaign?"

"I am very glad that Mr. Roosevelt is supporting Mr. Hughes. I think it is a fine thing and will be a great help."

"Supposing you are called upon to speak from the same platform with Colonel Roosevelt?"

"That will not make a particle of difference to me. I am for Mr. Hughes and I would not be so little as to let my personal feelings interfere. You can say for me that that would not affect me a particle."

Taft added that he was not sure he would be called upon to speak from any platform.

"I am ready, but those things are always arranged by the speaking bureau. I am just a private in the ranks and will obey orders. The Mexican situation looks like a bad mess. I hope that we will not have to intervene, but if we do, I think the present administration will be to blame."—Globe-Democrat.

Having a fine time. We are riding in Pullman cars.
Just passed through Tulsa, Okla. Fine welcome in this town.

A treat from Tulsa, Okla. On our way to Mexico.

We are having some trip, Stump, believe me. We are riding in Pullman cars now. Some class.

We are on our way, but don't know where.

Dear Sister: All safe and sound. On way to Mexico. Write soon.

How's every little thing. Grace. Having some trip. Remember me to Margaret.

Still riding on trains. Some Indians in this town. How are you?

Dear Cousin: I write you a few lines to let you know that we are on our way to Mexico and please let the boys from Sessa corner read this card and please tell Pastor John that Louie Ritz was drowned in the Ankanone river June 29, 1916, and please inform my family that I saved one of them. I had to tow him about fifty feet to the beach and they all gave me a cheer.

Dear Ruth: I am writing this from Oklahoma. What are you doing Saturday? Remember the crazy little bridge at the park around the corner.

I am having a good time going, but don't know what kind of a time I will have when I get there.

Dear mother and sister: Arrived at Tulsa, Okla. Great people. Gave us boxes of matches and cigars. All of wells around here and beautiful country.

regular army his heart was with the Oklahoma national guard, and he wants a commission in guard. If he does not get that he will enlist as a private and go through with our boys to the finish. He was given a great ovation. Major Scott won honorable mention because of his participation in the skirmish wherein Cervantes lost his life. General Pershing stated at that time that the death of Cervantes was second only to the death of Villa. Major Scott says that he feels sure from much evidence that Villa is dead. Officers and men here want Scott with them.

Soldiers in Routine.
Most people know little of the routine of a company's day. Here is the program. It will show you how the time is employed. This getting up early may be different but the boys really getting to enjoy it. It is as follows:

First call, 5:40 a. m.; reveille, 5:45 a. m.; assembly, with 10 minutes setting up exercises, 5:50 a. m.; mess, 6:30 a. m.; fatigue, general police, 7 p. m.; morning report, 7:50 a. m.; first call drill, 7:55 a. m.; work; assembly, 8 a. m.; recall for drill, 10 a. m.; school, noncommissions, 10:30 a. m.; recall, 11:30 a. m.; mess call, 12 m.; at that time the first sergeant call, 1:15 p. m.; first call drill, 1:40 p. m.; assembly, 2 p. m.; recall, 4 p. m.; first-call retreat, 5:50 p. m.; assembly, retreat follows immediately, 6 p. m.; mess, 6 p. m.; tattoo, 9 p. m.; call to quarters, 10:45 p. m.; taps 11 p. m.

Lieut. Sam Foster of Drumright is attached to the headquarters of Maxine. He is one of the best-known men in the oil country and has seen many years of guard service. He has two brothers under arms, one a regular and one a marine. There are many of field fellows in camp, and the Tulsa World long ago became a habit with them. Yesterday, when the package of Worlds reached the camp postoffice, I was at Lawton. When I returned I found that officers had been unwilling to wait for "The World" and had seized the supply and placed them among the commanding officers. I recovered three of them and took them to Company C. After this a guard will be placed over "The World" until one is placed in each Company C tent. The entire news-dealers supply in Lawton has been exhausted every day and yesterday the Bates sisters, who operate the newsstand at the Midland hotel, tried to get more copies from other news-dealers. One dealer had one left and he was saving that for a customer.

Captain Waite of the quartermaster's department was the first captain of Company C when it was originally organized at Shawnee. The company was mustered out, and then Guthrie became the home of Company C. Lack of attention caused the company to weaken there, and then Tulsa fell heir to it, and it is found that "the third time's the charm." There isn't a company where there is more interest today in any of the organizations. Captain Waite had left the company when it began to travel, having been transferred to the quartermaster's department. He is one of the well-known military men of the state, is a native of Minnesota and has large in-
